Stoneham, MA - Stoneham Town Day is back and members of the Stoneham School Building Committee (SSBC) are excited to have space at this town-wide event on Saturday, September 18th on the Stoneham Town Common from 11 am to 4 pm.

With the most recent approval from the Massachusetts School Building Authority (MSBA), Committee, members are continuing their work of envisioning what Stoneham High School will look like in 2024 and reaching out to provide Stoneham residents with information about the project, which they will be asked to consider at October 4th Town meeting and again on November 2 at the polls. On August 25th, the MSBA Board of Directors voted to approve the new Stoneham High School project and an estimated grant of $49.0 million to help fund the project. This approval brings Stoneham one step closer to replacing the existing high school with a brand-new facility equipped to support Stoneham's 21st century educational curriculum.

Residents are encouraged to visit our booth, see digital and hard copy renderings of the proposed building and grounds and learn about the many aspects - educational, arts, athletic, creative and life-long learning – that have been proposed to ensure the best possible campus to wholly educate future students and Stoneham residents through the 21st century. We'll have some children and adults activities to enjoy and folks prepared to answer all your questions.

You can also visit the current SHS building on specific dates. Please visit <https://www.stoneham-ma.gov/hsbc> for those dates.

Regular SSBC Meetings are held twice a month on Monday evenings beginning at 7:00 p.m. and are now in-person meetings at Stoneham Central Middle School. The School Building Committee meetings are open to all and the Committee welcomes and encourages your attendance and input. Details for attending meetings can be found at <https://www.stoneham-ma.gov/hsbc> .
